

Cleveland State University Research Challenge Committee
The Office of Research and Innovation is committed to supporting research and innovation that impact the enterprise and environment at Cleveland State University. The Office of Research and Innovation and other departments are working together to implement research and innovation as they impact research and innovation.

Committee Membership
Committee members are appointed by the President of Cleveland State University. The committee consists of faculty, staff, and students.